Product Description

Aanandam An Act of Community Service

Salient Feature:

- It is a guide book for the students and the mentors of the course.
- The book discusses about how the education is incomplete without evolving the goodness hidden inside an individual.
- It guides the students about how to interact with the community and understand the problems of the people.
- It explains about how to select a community problem and make it a subject for the group project.
- How to write the project report, has been explained well with examples.
- The importance of volunteerism, environmental sustainability and community service has been discussed at length.
- The students are most important part of society. It is expected from the education system that it produces socially responsible and empathetic young leaders. To fulfill this objective a novel idea of Aanandam diary has been introduced. It gives an opportunity to peep into the inner world and let love and kindness flow.
- This book will certainly help in understanding the course and implementing it in true spirit to bring forth empathetic, creative and happy young leaders.
